GENERAL DAVIS WILL COMMAND CAVALRY UNITS

(See Page 8)

FORT RILEY, Kas., January 24.—Soon to arrive here to assume command of the famed Ninth and Tenth Cavalry regiments are newly-appointed Brigadier General Benjamin O. Davis and his son, Captain Benjamin O. Davis Jr.

General Davis, who received his elevation in rank October 25 from President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is the first colored man ever to climb to the rank of general in the United States army. He and his son will be the first colored men to command the famous cavalry regiments which have gone down in history for their bravery, courage and military ability.

Captain Davis, who was ordered from Tuskegee institute to serve under his father, and General Davis, are the only colored commissioned officers in the regular army. Captain Davis is a graduate of West Point; his father came up through the ranks.

General Davis, as colonel, was serving with the 389th central Postal Directory of New York, recently con-

NEW YORK.—Introduction in Congress of a resolution calling for a Senate investigation of the status and treatment of the Negro in the national defense program will be sought by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, it was announced here today.

According to officials of the organization the name of the senator who will introduce the resolution will be made known within the next few days.

The announcement followed action taken by the Association's board of directors at their monthly meeting held here at the N. A. A. C. P.'s national headquarters, 69 Fifth avenue. At this meeting the board, following a lengthy discussion of the question, voted to seek a Congressional investigation into every phase of the defense program, particularly the nationwide discrimination practiced against Negroes in the matter of employment, by firms holding federal contracts, and the refusal of vocational training to Negroes in defense training, classes, a project financed by the government.

The investigation would also include a thorough probe into the discrimination against Negroes in the Army, Navy, Army Air Corps, Medical Reserve, and in the operation of local draft boards throughout the country.

The resolution will call for public hearings, the announcement said, and the taking of testimony

Would Compel Officials to Consider Application As Flyer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A suit to compel officials of the War Department to consider his application for enlistment in the United States Army Air Corps as a "flying cadet," was filed here today by Yancey Williams, a student of Howard university.

The complaint which was filed in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia, names as defendants Secretary of War Henry Stimson, Chief of Staff Major-General George C. Marshall, Adjutant-General E. S. Adams, Chief of Air Corps Major-General Henry H. Arnold, and Major-General Walter S. Grant, commanding general of the Third Corps Area. The suit is being brought not only in his own behalf, Williams says in the complaint, but also in behalf of all other Negroes "similarly situated."

In his complaint, Williams, who has completed two years of college work at Howard university, alleges that he has successfully completed the primary and secondary training courses of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and holds a private pilot's license. He passed the physical examination by army doctors at Bolling Field last July. Williams says he met all requirements for application for appointment as a flying cadet, made out his application and transmitted it with all required references and records, to the commanding officer of the Third Corps Area on November 20, 1940. The commanding general according to the complaint refused to consider the application on the ground that the plaintiff was a Negro.

Williams says he appealed to the Adjutant-General and the Secretary of War, and on December 13, 1940, the appeal was refused solely because he was a Negro. The complaint also alleges that during that time and at the present time the defendant officials of the War Department have been advertising in newspapers and over the radio re-

Evansville Refuses Defense Training

EVANSVILLE, Jan. 24.—Discriminatory gestures in the local Mechanical Arts school were investigated recently when Robert Anglin, president of the local branch of the NAACP, accompanied by T. B. Neely, executive director of the YMCA; J. W. Holder, newspaperman; Marion Nell, Stephen Wells, and Roy Carey, called at the building and interviewed the principal.

Citing several instances of "polite" discrimination, the group reported that only one member of their committee, Mr. Anglin, was permitted to enter the principal's office, and that, following an hour and a half of private consultation with the school executive, the NAACP president stated that he was dissatisfied with the results.

Anglin said the school principal told him: "I am afraid the solution rests with an intelligence greater than mine," and inferred that the school would accept applications from colored youths only when authorities in Washington made it mandatory. Anglin further stated that citizens of Evansville should press the Washington executives for action in this matter.

Warren Anderson, assistant principal of Roosevelt high school at Gary and recently appointed member of the state education board, will begin discharge of his duties immediately, it was disclosed, Mr. Warren, well known in club, political and school circles, was named for the position by Gov. Henry L. Schricker from a list of seventeen aspirants.

Jim Crow Inaugural Rocks Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (By Frederick S. Weaver for ANP) — The withdrawal of Negroes from the "Special Committee on Negro Entertainment," and the refusal of many to serve in connection with the inauguration, put a damper on the activities of Emory B. Smith, minister-lawyer, who acted as chairman of the jim-crow side of the inauguration.

Heading a delegation from the National Negro congress to protest the setting up of this special committee, Dr. Doxey Wilkerson, of Howard university, termed the affair "typical of American Democracy" and called upon Joseph Davis, chairman of the general committee, to call the jim-crow program off.

Opposition to the group came when it was learned that no Negroes were to be admitted to Constitution Hall to the white musical, but that the special committee would sponsor a colored musical the following night, with Negro artists, at the government auditorium. None of the members of the "special committee" were even given invitations to the inauguration at the capitol, though a few obtained one from other sources.

Of those criticizing the special committee, the most bitter was Dr. C. Herbert Marshall, president of the local branch of the N. A. A. C. P., and president of the Georgetown Civic association. Dr. Marshall told the press that Edgar Brown, who condoned the setting up of a special committee, and Emory B. Smith, "should be taken into the middle of the ocean, hang up on a derrick and permit me to cut the rope."

"It is a shame that Negroes should ask for a thing of this sort."

MAIL CARRIER GIVEN CHOICE ROUTE HERE

Announcement was made here this week of the assignment of William R. Meriwether, local mail carrier, to a preferred downtown route. The assignment was made following a petition to the Post Office department by the local branch of the National Alliance of Postal Employees, when Mr. Meriwether notified the Alliance he had been denied the position, although he was eligible in point of seniority. It was said that Mr. Meriwether had applied for the coveted route on other occasions and had been refused for no apparent good reason.

Governor Schricker Promises Fair Deal; Hears CIO Plan

A twenty-five-point legislative program which includes an "extension and protection of the Civil rights" of colored persons, improvement of the employment, education and recreation of youth, and extension of the WPA and Old-age Pension agencies, was drawn here last week by one thousand CIO leaders who heard Governor-elect Henry F. Schricker's first public reply to the GOP "decentralization" program.

Pledging "fair play" in the disposal of his duties as governor, Mr. Schricker said:

"I do not crave power. I never was a pugilist. Political power is the last thing I am thinking of. I want to discharge the duties of Governor honestly, uprightly and without fear."

"When you come to the State House and walk in the governor's office, you don't want to see Henry Schricker, you want to see an individual commissioned to do a job."

Stating that he was sure they wanted a "governor and not an office-boy" in the State House, Mr. Schricker also warned against tampering with the State labor conciliation setup.

"Government should be impartial and fair," he said. "All misunderstandings (between industry and labor) should be solved around the council table. In any dispute, both parties should gather as soon as possible in conference. They should meet as men and not as enemies."

In its present form, the Republican program would strip Mr. Schricker of much of his power and give Lieutenant-Governor Charles Dawson the bulk of the executive authority. The "Decentralization Bill" provides that the Division of Labor be placed under a three-man board headed by Mr. Dawson.

SLAYER WAIVES TRIAL BY JURY, PLEADS GUILTY

Convicted in criminal court on a charge of murder in the first degree, Walter Galloway, 48, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Dewey E. Myers Saturday. The man, charged with having slain Mrs. Martha Gordon, 39, 629 Blake street, last September 27 at her home, waived a jury trial and entered a plea of guilty. The sentence was the first of such severity in a long while, there having been but three life terms given in recent years. Others have been two-to-fourteen and have drawn much unfavorable comment.

The unfortunate victim of an alleged triangle, Mrs. Gordon was struck repeatedly with an ax on the forehead, the right side of the neck and lower jawbone. Flesh and bone were ground to a pulp under the heavy blows. The weapon was found by police at the door of the woman's bedroom where Galloway apparently had dropped it as he fled the house. The 5-year-old daughter of the woman helpless-

DELIVER GOODS, JOHNSON TELLS LUNCHEON CLUB; OSTROM NEXT

"Get the goods, deliver them and you will succeed," Ben Johnson, manager of H. L. Sanders company declared in the course of his talk Monday at the Luncheon club.

The educational system is wrong, he said, and cited the lack of skilled persons compared with those of more formal and academic training. Booker T. Washington, the speaker stated, had the right idea, the great educator was one hundred years ahead of his time, Mr. Johnson said.

A great aid in building business for the future is education of children from very early years, teaching them cooperation and race pride in the homes, schools, and churches. Ministers, the Sanders company manager pointed out, must emphasize the economic as well as spiritual questions.

Since personnel is very important in business, the workers must be come more efficient and better trained. All persons concerned—the worker, the business men, whom he says must unite, and the public—must lose their inferiority complexes, if any, and cooperate in a great unified program for the general betterment and growth in our enterprises.

Following comment made by F. B. Ransom, city councilman and Walker company manager, a committee was named to lay plans for a meeting on the industrial phase

TUSKEGEE INST., Jan. 24. (A NP) — President F. D. Patterson announced Friday that notice had been received from Assistant Secretary of War Patterson in Washington, D. C., that the war department was proceeding immediately with plans to establish the formation of a pursuit squadron at Tuskegee Institute. This will be the first time that the United States army has trained Negro fliers for army service. Assistant Secretary Patterson, announcing the formation of the squadron in Washington, said that it was part of the army's policy of having Negro units in all branches of the armed services of the country.

The squadron, Secretary Patterson said, would consist of 400 enlisted men, 33 pilots and 27 planes. Enlisted men for the squadron will be selected with care and trained at Chanute Field, Ill., where the army is building one of the greatest air schools in the country.

A flying field and all other facilities for advanced army flying will be developed at Tuskegee. The sum

It was supposed to have been Dolly's last game as a member of the Blackbirds, a team which helped make him famous and for which he did likewise. His general plans for the future are yet uncertain.

Chairman As Flanner Building Drive Opens

Definite plans were launched Tuesday for a city-wide financial campaign to erect a new building for Flanner House, with the appointment of Harry V. Wade as general chairman.

Flanner House is a charter-member agency of the Indianapolis Community Fund and recently received the Fund's approval to undertake a drive for a new building. Cleo W. Blackburn, superintendent of Flanner House, recently was presented with the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce award for outstanding civic achievement during 1940.

Mr. Wade, vice-president of the American Central Life Insurance Company, heads a sponsoring group of more than sixty business, civic and church leaders who are inter-

PASTORS SCORE LIQUOR; SEEK LOCAL OPTION

In a speech before delegates' of the All-Baptist Training Institute in session at the Mt. Paran Baptist church, Rev. J. H. Jackson, foreign secretary of the national Baptist convention, declared Tuesday that "Religious freedom never should be granted to persons unwilling to assume the responsibilities that it implies."

As the Institute reports success in the five day meetings, the delegates voted authorization of a resolution asking the Indiana legislature for passage of a local option law with either the county or the township as the voting unit. Such a law was declared to be necessary in the training of youth.

Several pastors said that "persons who previously had been total abstainers have become liquor addicts under the tavern system."

Further interesting items in the progress of the Institute have included a church clinic on "Correcting Departments of the Church," and a fellowship dinner at which problems facing the modern church were discussed.

St. Louis Zetas Buy Community Center

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24. (ANP)—Xi Zeta chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta sorority of this city has made remarkable progress during the past five years under the leadership of its retiring basileus, Lucile H. Swartz.

Setting a precedent among the chapters of Zeta Phi Beta, the local group has started the purchasing of a large building, a recreation project in the heart of a "large-family" district. The center has been financed by the Metropolitan church federation until recently. It has a year-round program and has been functioning through the efforts of a selected group of inter-racial leaders, the board of directors, and Miss Carolyn Williams, director of the center, appointed by Zeta sorors.

Teachers at the center serve in capacities of advisors, club sponsors, guidance leaders, Scout leaders, etc. The WPA, recognizing the need of the center, furnishes leaders for craft work and recreation.

At the recent boules' held in Richmond, the national group expressed its approval of the Dickson center project and made definite plans to sponsor and to establish a permanent national project.

Louisville Board Agrees To Equalize Teachers' Pay

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The local school board in an answer filed in the federal court here this week, agreed to equalize the salaries of all Negro and white teachers starting September, 1941.

The answer was filed as a result of the complaint of Miss Valia

Dudley Arrington, a Negro school teacher, who had asked the court for a declaratory judgment and an injunction restraining the payment of less salary to Negro teachers and principals than the whites in Louisville solely because of race or color. At present there is a fifteen per cent differential between the salaries paid to white and Negro teachers. Miss Arrington was represented by Prentice R. Thomas, local NAACP attorney. Thurgood Marshall, special NAACP counsel, was associated with Mr. Thomas in the case.

The only complaint which the students voiced was one regarding the quality of food served them. Officials contend that this complaint is unwarranted; that Tuskegee maintains one of the best boarding systems of any school in the country; that food is served in cafeteria style and that the student diners have a wide variety from which to choose. Had there been any dissatisfaction regarding food the students had every right and privilege to bring it up through the regular channels of student government and to have, any adjustment made which was deemed right and possible, it was pointed out.

President Patterson when interviewed said that only 200 or 300 of the 1,400 students were engaged in the strike. Those questioned apparently wanted more variety, he said, but had no objection to the amount which they had been served.

Tuskegee's students are enrolled in a cadet corps through which physical exercise and normal discipline are exercised. They also have a complete student governing body which is presumed to voice their satisfaction or dissatisfaction with any phase of school life. Officials condemn the failure of the students to use this machinery in normal fashion and said that any students who did not return to classes and normal school routine by Friday were to face dismissal.

President Patterson offered a of $1,091,000 has been appropriated for the development at Tuskegee.

The choice of Tuskegee for the establishment of the air squadron was based undoubtedly upon the splendid record made by the CAA flying school which has been operating there. Tuskegee's students in the primary CAA flying course established a record of 100 per cent of the students taking the course qualifying. Twenty students had been allotted to the group which in some fashion grew to 21. Nevertheless all 21 of the students passed with the highest marks of any similar group, white or colored, in the entire southeastern area.

President Patterson of Tuskegee who has established a committee to work for a flying field at Tuskegee which would be owned by the school and used for preliminary training so that students could qualify for the advanced army CAA to establish its advanced course there and students from Hampton, Howard, West Virginia, and Lincoln university are sent to Tuskegee for advanced CAA training after finishing the primary course at their various institutions.

"We are grateful for this recognition by the army and the United States government, after it had made such rigorous investigations," said President Patterson. "We will dedicate ourselves to the task of giving additional opportunity to young Negro Americans who are eager to enter their country's service in the field of aviation."

All Negro officers will eventually be used in the air squadron extension, the commanding officer. Finally the commanding officer will be colored. There will be various units established throughout the country particularly for training of students with Tuskegee as the base.

At a meeting held here at Tuskegee Thursday, January 16, 17 colored schools throughout the country sent representatives to discuss the aviation program for Negro youth. Among the schools were Wilberforce university, Virginia State, Hampton, Langston university, Lincoln university, Fisk, Tennessee State, Morehouse, Alabama A. & M., Xavier and Alabama State. The group endorsed establishing an air squadron and based at Tuskegee. Major Smith of Maxwell Field where army flyers were being trained, came in to discuss the problems involved. Student aviators in the course at Tuskegee were in the meeting when Major Smith spoke.

SHOP TEACHER STUDIES FIELD AT CAL. MEET

December 16-20. Marmon Hunsbury, Attucks high school shop head, was the only colored person attending the convention. Theme of the four-day meet was "Training for National Defense," and topics of "Determining Training Needs and Resulting Proficiency of Defense Workers" and "Occupational Guidance," were of prime interest to the group. Besides Mr. Hunsbury, three other persons from Indiana attended the meet.

THE BEST POSSIBLE SERVICE from YOUR standpoint

Some 260,000 telephones are operated by the Indiana Bell. On the average, 1,568,000 calls, each one "made to order," are handled every day in 96 central offices throughout the state. More than 1,100,000 miles of wire—enough to circle the earth 44 times—must be kept in readiness for your needs. About 3,500 experienced men and women are at your service. » Maintenance and operation of the Indiana Bell telephone system is a big job. Technical details are checked continually to aid and guide us in reaching a high standard of performance. But most important measurement of all is what you think of the service we render. It is our constant aim, and a guiding principle of our business, to do the best possible job from the customer's point of view!

verted into an artillery unit. Upon his arrival at Fort Riley, General Davis will find a process of expansion. Barracks are being built to house the fourth cavalry brigade. At present the larger part of the Tenth Cavalry has been stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., but now the entire Tenth is under orders to come to Fort Riley, the home of the Ninth. Fort Riley, already the largest Cavalry school in the army, is to become even a larger Cavalry center.

General Davis was born in Washington, D. C., June 1, 1877, and entered the military service July 15, 1898, during the war with Spain serving as first lieutenant of the Eighth U. S. Infantry.

He was mustered out March 6, 1899, and on June 14 of that year, enlisted as a private in Troop 1 of the Ninth Cavalry. He was promoted to corporal and squadron sergeant-major and on February 1901, was commissioned a second lieutenant of the cavalry in the regular army.

General Davis was promoted to first lieutenant March 30, 1905; to captain December 24, 1915; to major August 5, 1917; and to lieutenant colonel May 1, 1918. He reverted to his regular army rank of major on August 4, 1919, and was promoted to lieutenant colonel July 1, 1940; to colonel Feb. 18, 1941, and to brigadier general October 25, 1940.

In the event that discrimination is not abolished after the investigation, the association will seek the introduction of bills in Congress to require inclusion of Anti-discrimination clauses in all industrial defense contracts financed in whole or in part by the federal government, and to amend the National Labor Relations Act by denying the protection of this Act to unions which discriminate either directly or indirectly against Negroes.

In making the announcement officials of the organization stated that they would "leave no stone unturned," in pushing the investigation to the limit.

"THEY BUILT AND FINISHED IT"—Ezra 6:14

Announcement was made here this week of the formal opening of the Capitol Avenue Seventh-Day Adventist church, 2160 North Capitol avenue, of which Elder J. H. Laurence is pastor. The opening marks the near-completion of a $35,000 structure, cornerstone of which was laid in November, 1939 by their Lieutenant Governor Henry Schricker. Present indebtedness of the church is less than $100.

Beginning with praise services Friday, January 24, the three-day celebration will include: Saturday, January 25, Consecration Service by Elder S. E. Wight of South Bend; Consecration Prayer by Elder J. L. Saunders, president of the Indiana Seventh-Day Adventists conference, and afternoon sermon by Elder W. D. Ford of Battle Creek, Mich.; Sunday, January 26, Formal opening services at 3 p. m., with Governor Schricker as guest speaker, and Evangelist Frederick Phipps, pastor of the Ephesus Seventh-Day Adventist church of Cincinnati, O., delivering the evening sermon, accompanied by his church choir.

The Sunday afternoon formal opening services will be "open house for the clergy and friends" of the city, and will be followed, throughout the week by nightly evangelistic meetings conducted by the pastor, assisted by Evangelist F. Crowe of South Bend.

Former site of the church was at 819 North West street, when the congregation totaled approximately eighty persons. In 1936 the North Capitol avenue lot was purchased, and within the five-year period the membership has advanced to more than 325.

In addition to the church regime, the building houses an eleven-grade junior academy, the first of its kind in the city. H. W. Laurence, B. A., heads the Academy, assisted by Misses J. E. Laurence and Sylvia Kee.

INAUGURAL

It simply proves that Negroes aren't worth a damn. I'm retiring," Dr. Marshall said.

Demonstrating her resentment, Mrs. Velma Williams, member of the board of education, walked out of the final meeting after refusing to be photographed with the group. Harry S. McAlpin, of the celebrated "McAlpin Dismissal Case," was elected secretary of the group, but refused to serve and wouldn't attend the meetings. Dr. James Nabrit, secretary of Howard university, listed as a member of the committee, told the press that he had been in Texas for several days, and had just returned. He knew nothing about the committee arrangements, he said, but was opposed to Jim-crowism in any form.

Nathan A. Dobbins, president of the Terrell Bar association, said he agreed with the stand of the Negro congress. "I have never attended any of the meetings," he said. The same sentiment was voiced by Dr. Howard Payne, president of the District Medical association; Rev. Robert M. Williams, local minister; Mrs. John R. Pinkett, and Rev. C. T. Murray, pastor, Vermont Avenue Baptist church.

Taking sides with the committee on the other hand were Col. West Hamilton, member of the school board; Wootley W. Hall, former president of the Federation of Civic associations; Howard D. Woodson, president, Northeast Boundary Civic association, and Col. Howard D. Queen, president of the Federation of Civic association, who contended that inasmuch as separate schools, churches, etc., are accepted, there was no necessity to howl over segregation at the inauguration.

Further protests were heard when Smith reported to the special committee at its final meeting Saturday, that he had to draw $300 from his personal bank account to advance to the artists appearing on the musical.

The artists, he explained, were donating their talent, but required their expenses in advance. The inaugural committee refused to advance the money, necessitating his spending his personal money.

Appearing on the program were the Southernaires, Carol Brice, Louis Vaughn Jones, Anne Wiggins Brown, Clyde Barrie, and Kenneth Spencer.

On questioning, none of the artists knew in advance they were being used as part of a Jim-crow musical. Their impression, they explained, that they were being engaged to participate in the inaugural official program and not a side-show, however, after coming here, the show went on.

Despite the fact that Negroes were not admitted to the musical in Constitutional hall for whites, Smith reserved half of the seats in the government auditorium for "white music lovers and dignitaries." Many colored who sought invitations to the free Negro musical were turned down in favor of whites. Indeed members of the committee were over-looked when invitations were sent out.

In a last minute effort to stop the show, the Negro congress sent a telegram to the President, protesting the entire activity of the special committee, whose names, appearing in the official inaugural program, are designated by the word "colored."

Smith, attempting to keep down adverse publicity, some of which crept into the press last week, sought to limit Negro reporters covering special activities to five, and at the same time ousted the reporter whom he felt was responsible for the articles appearing in last week's papers.

All releases to Negro newspapers were routed by Smith through the main publicity office manned by white reporters and press men.

HIBBITT WILL OPEN LECTURE SERIES SUNDAY

A series of meetings, under sponsorship of the West Town Hall group, dealing with Negro problems, has been announced by Miss Louise Winston, chairman. W. Chester Hibbitt, managing editor of THE INDIANAPOLIS RECORDER, will open the series Sunday, January 26, 3:15 p. m., with a discussion of the lack of jobs for Negroes in the emergency industrial defense program. All meetings will be held at 1219 North Senate avenue and are open to the public.

The series will continue until March 9, will bring outstanding speakers for discussion of questions vital to the Negro. Ernest Calloway, educational director of the United Transport Service Workers, has been urged to address the group. Mr. Calloway, whose letter of protest against Jim Crow army service in America, was published in THE RECORDER, has filed suit to protect his constitutional rights. Millions throughout the country are watching this test of democracy.

Rev. Smith, who will discuss Religion and Its Application, is scheduled for February 2; other topics include Democracy for the Negro, Organized Trends of the Negro and The Next Three Years. Marmon Hansberry, head of the shop department at Crispus Attucks high school, has been asked to discuss Trends in Vocational Training.

WALTER GALLOWAY

after an absence of several months, had told Galloway he must move from the house. The man resented having to go.

In a statement to police, Galloway said that during the course of the evening and that Mrs. Gordon became violent, screaming "You're going to get out of here. Or something. Kill me!"

He tried to quiet her, he said, but became enraged when he could not. He got the ax then, he said, and started towards her. "You're not going to hurt me," the woman told him; and Galloway said he shouted: "The hell I ain't! Then I swung as hard as I could with the ax. Then I swung again and again, and I don't know how many times I struck her." He said that he struck a match, bent over her to see what damage he had done.

The woman's body was soaked in blood, lying behind a stove near the bedroom, and her horror-stricken child told the sordid story to officers. Galloway left a note: "I kill Sis Rosie Gordon because she got drunk."

Can You Use More Money?

People who made New Year's resolutions to save more money, in 1941 recognize that one of the best ways to do so is to stop using their autos for trips downtown each day and to ride the convenient and economical trolley service in Indianapolis.

It has been estimated that it costs about 50c a day to drive your car to business. This amount includes parking, gasoline, oil, tires, a wash job about once a week, and maintenance work now and then. It does not include items like depreciation, insurance, license fees, taxes and such other fixed expenses which go right along whether you drive your car or not.

If the direct cost of driving your car to work, expense which you would not have to endure if you left it at home, is 50c per day and you go to work 300 days a year, that makes your transportation outlay $150 per annum. The exact amount, of course, varies with the distance of your home from your place of work.

Nevertheless if we take the figure of $150 as an average, it becomes apparent that the trolley rider has a big advantage in the matter of savings. His daily round trip fare on a street car or trackless trolley by using 64c tokens is only 12c. So we see the transportation cost for the trolley rider, averages approximately $37.50 for an entire year.

The difference between $150 and the much smaller trolley transportation cost leaves a sizeable sum which you have saved during 1941 if you start riding transit vehicles today and leave your auto at home.

MRS. DOROTHY WILSON WEBB
WEBB—In loving remembrance of our dear wife and daughter, Dorothy Wilson Webb, who passed away January 20, 1939.

Those whom we love go out of our sight,
But never out of mind:
Of those they leave behind,
Loving and kind in all her ways
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.

Sadly missed by

White Pilates, Judases and Hitlers In Nat'l Defense Taken to Task

By M. BEAUNORUS TOLSON
Washington Tribune Columnist

In the first World War the Negro fought to make the world safe for Democracy. Today he fights to make Georgia and New York and the Capital safe for the Negro. Where Democracy is not—there is the place to fight. If we must die, like hogs. Negro appeasers, compromisers, and Uncle Toms are catching hell.

This is the New Year. This is the New Negro. I'm glad to be alive in these times times that try men's souls. Right is dynamic. The Negro people are right in their battle for economic equality, political freedom, and social justice. Democracy, crushed to earth in the District of Columbia, will rise again!

And now I come to the white Pilates and Judases and Hitlers in our misnamed National Defense. National pertains to a people having social homogeneity and mutuality of interests. Therefore, there can be no National Defense if white Pilates and Judases and Hitlers crucify Democracy on a Jim-Crow cross.

White America, you can't fight Hitler successfully if your banners are labeled FOR WHITES ONLY. You have to put up Democracy—or shut up! A billion yellow men and brown men and black men are calling for a showdown.

GAP BETWEEN THEORY AND PRACTICE

Sunday, President Roosevelt made an eloquent appeal for national unity. It was translated into six languages and broadcast. The nations of South America heard it. South of the border there are millions of people of African descent. They are going to put our Democracy to a rigid test. They are going to tell Uncle Sam to practice what he preaches. Those South American democrats don't know anything about Jim-Crow signs.

Now let us take a glance at "Life" magazine for December 30, 1940. Here's a concrete example of the gap between theory and practice. "Life" shows ninety pictures of defense chiefs and their subordinates in the Defense Commission, the War Department, and the Navy Department. I don't recognize a single Negro. Barzysky is here; Sambo is missing.

The professors tell me the Negro is the submerged tenth. Now I find he's the submerged Zero in the National Defense. God bless America! Because the Jim-Crow National Defense is trying to damn America.

FOR WHITE ONLY—ALWAYS

Everywhere the Negro turns he runs into the sign, FOR WHITES ONLY. President Roosevelt tells that the very existence of the United States is at stake. But this tragic situation has not caused our good white citizens to lay aside their ancient prejudices.

"Time" magazine for November 25 carried a full-page advertisement of the United Gas Pipe Line Company, in the Deep South.

It tried to persuade industrialists to put factories down there because there was plenty of labor—"native, white, reliable, and intelligent". The National Urban League protested against this gross, undemocratic practice. They got the same results that the NAACP got from Mr. Roosevelt on the Anti-Lynch Bill.

Mr. Morgan Jensen reports the case of Ernest Bosley, one of the fifteen men fired from Uncle Sam's navy, because he refused to submit to Jim-Crowism. Mr. Bosley thought he had a wonderful opportunity of serving his country by becoming efficient at the Norfolk Training Station. He discovered that no black man could rise higher than officer's cook and officer's steward. Uncle Sam's navy believes in keeping the Negro "in his place". And that place is waiting on white folk and mopping decks!

When these high insults are mentioned to the Big White Boys, they do one of three things: wash their hands, like Mr. Sidney Hillman; sell out Democracy, like Cotton Ed Smith; use Hitlerian methods, like Senator Bilbo. So far as the Negro is concerned, the National Defense is composed of white Pilates, Judases, and Hitlers.

No Negro was fooled when the aged Colonel Benjamin Davis was made a Brigadier General, at the tail-end of a hot political race. Negroes want jobs—not the political crumbs that fall from the White House table. You can't fill 14,000,000 dark bellies with a few political plums!

DR. RAYFORD LOGAN AND HIS COMMITTEE

Our salvation lies in a militant, united front. In my cynical moments, I've been against committees. In many cases a committee is a scientific way of doing nothing. But from the facts at hand, I believe Negroes should support the National Committee for Participation of Negroes in National Defense. Dr. Rayford Logan is the chairman of this organization. He is ably supported by such co-workers as Ambrose Caliver, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Roy Wilkins, William J. Trent, Frederick S. Weaver, George Schuyler, Robert C. Weaver, William Hastie, and others.

Billions are to be spent on National Defense. Common sense says the Negro should get his share. And he'll have to fight like hell for it. Negroes must get into the army air corps, the airplane factories, the munition plants, the marine corps, the signal corps, the coast guard, the dental corps, and other activities.

It is not going to be an easy task. The few Negroes appointed to the National Defense can do little by themselves. This is an age of mass pressure. Negroes should flood Congress and the White House with tens of thousands of letters. Don't forget the white Pilates and Judases and Hitlers camping in the Capital.

Nobody is going to give you your rights on a golo platter. The mask shall inherit the graves. According to President Roosevelt, this is a Democracy. In a Democracy you have a right to demand economic equality, political freedom, and social justice.

We want jobs in the National Defense. There will be no compromise. There will be no appeasement. The white Pilates and Judases and Hitlers cannot stop us. We will not be sold down the river as we were in the first World War. We shall defend Democracy; but we shall do it as equals and not funkies.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 23. (By Harry LeVette for ANP)—If ever there was a time in the history of our obstacle-confronted race than that you should support your colored papers, it is now. For the whole civilized world (that is, all except the axis madhouses) is taking democracy is getting kicked around, in unholly horror at the injustices done minorities abroad. But our papers are busily unfolding evidence issue after issue, that democracy is getting kicked around, right here in the "home of the free and the brave," what with discrimination against the Negro, closed doors in defense work, narrow fields of education, etc. This paper dares print the truth about the uphill fight our race has to make, and the prejudice it has to face so read it every week. It is the most powerful weapon of defense you have, so support it. No other group is represented by publications that so unstintingly, faithfully and even self-sacrificingly devote their pages to the advancement and protection of its members as the Black Press.

And as in other departments of this paper you are now reading "Gossip of the Movie Lots," is still recording after 14 years the doings and progress of that important group, the septa movie actor.

As Railroad May Deduct Room, Board

CHICAGO, Jan. 24. (ANP)—Recent announcements made by the wage and hour division of the U.S. Department of Labor that more than $7,000,000 will be added to the pay of railroad workers through establishment of the new minimum pay of 36 cents per hour in March are viewed with apprehension by the Joint Council of Dining-Car employees.

According to Richard W. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the organization, this may result in a smaller income for many of the 14,000 Negro dining-car workers throughout the nation instead of an increase in monthly pay. "While dining-car employees on a number of roads earn less than 36 cents per hour and should be entitled to this minimum rate, the railroads have and will oppose paying it on the grounds they furnish such employees room and board, for they have consistently refused to pay the 30-cent minimum now in effect as is designated for all railroad employees under current terms of the act," Mr. Smith said.

He pointed out that certain roads pay such employees 25 cents, contending the remaining five cents per hour is taken up in room and board. Claims in every such instance have been filed against the railroads by the joint council. Mr. Smith asserted that room and board given employees has never been a matter for arbitration when employees negotiated with the railroads for wages, but was furnished by the railways to facilitate their business.

The only solution is to have the law amended so that railroad employees will be exempted from paying the companies for room and board, the official declared. The council is planning a vigorous fight to this end before the wage and hour division in Washington. Mr. Smith said that when track workers were not paid the minimum because railroads contended shacks were maintained for their use as lodging places, complaints were filed and these workers were awarded $200 each. This, he feels, establishes a precedent for a similar decision in the case of dining-car employees.

At the same time, the minimum of 36 cents an hour may not actually increase an employee's earnings even if paid, the official asserted, because the railroads will then reduce each individual's working hours per month with a subsequent loss of opportunity to make tips on the part of dining-car waiters.

Art the Hard Way

NEW YORK — "Art the Hard Way" by Jerome Klein, one of America's leading art critics, in the January 17 issue of FRIDAY magazine, tells of the courage and hardship of Horace Pippin, colored artist, and his struggle to become the outstanding painter he is today.

When Horace Pippin was shipped home from France in 1919 with his right arm strapped to his side, it seemed a dead certainty that he was through for life - even though he did have a Croix de Guerre. His army doctors admitted he was fit for no mans work.

For ten years he could do nothing but remember and fume - until one day an idea struck him. He had found a way, crippled though he was, to paint again. Patiently and painfully he worked - until the painting he had labored over for three years - was "discovered."

Today, with his paintings shown in the great art galleries he can look upon his achievement as having been well worth the tireless and painstaking effort it cost him, and if ever a man has pulled himself up by his own boot straps to achieve the impossible, Horace Pippin is that man.

FRIDAY's exclusive feature is supplemented by candid photographs of this fine artist showing his technique - and the painting which brought widespread critical acclaim.

W. Va. Governor Asks First Battalion

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 24. (ANP) — If the request of West Virginia's new governor is honored by the war department, the state may soon have its first Negro troop battalion in history.

Gov. M. M. Neely has asked Secretary of War Harry L. Stimson to authorize the immediate organization of the battalion under authority of an act of the 1935 legislature.

No funds were made available when the act was first passed. Two years later, approximately $14,000 was authorized for the Negro military unit, but no action was taken. In 1939, the legislature again set aside a like sum for the program.

The entire personnel of the proposed battalion of four companies would consist entirely of West Virginia Negroes.

Under normal conditions, the national guard officers explained, the battalion would be about 300 strong, including officers and enlisted men.

Pickens Says:--

"GOD SAVE AMERICA"
By William Pickens for ANP

"God bless America!" is a nice word, but I feel like praying "God save America" when I consider how stubborn and dangerous are some of its minds. I cannot explain a mind like Wheeler's, which seems to stick today to the errors of yesterday, proven to be errors today - unless I explain it by a LACK of something that Lincoln possessed in high degree: The courage to admit that you WERE wrong. It is not a disgrace to admit that you have been wrong - which is only another way of asserting that you are now right, that you have made progress.

There was little excuse for isolation talk in 1939, when the present war broke out, but very little even then. Some of us saw immediately that isolationism was idiocy, and said so. We are still saying so. And the interesting thing is that now the great majority of hard-headed Americans have come around to that view. We could excuse the mind of an ignoramus or a laggard, but a senatorial mind. . . . God in his heaven! How can a Wheeler or any other highly intelligent mind think of isolation in 1941?

In that stubbornness I can see only weak human pride: an inability to admit that oneself has been in error. If Borah were still alive, I wonder if he would still be yelling for isolation, and saying that it could not matter to us what is done "in Europe." I wonder, Borah was a very intelligent man, but one of the stubbornest, right or wrong.

I am not saying of other men what I would not say of myself: I was for years pro-Japanese. I regarded them as potential salvation material in Asia, and thought that even if they had to beat the Chinese, their aim would be to establish a great common Asiatic Empire of Yellow men, with decent relations to all the rest of the world. But Japanese antics in the last six months have convinced me that I was wrong: they have now manifested themselves as the Axis nuisances of Asia, and the enemies of democracy and international decency. They changed their government and leaders, and perhaps that accounts in part for the change in their character as a community. Perhaps I was always wrong about them. But at least I believe that I am right about them now for now, they are in the same boat with the Fascists of Europe and are the enemies of what we are willing to fight and die for.

There are people in this country who are willing to betray this country to some other country, who have more devotion to some other than this. That is natural, since we have allowed people to come here from all over the earth. It is perfectly natural, but it is a problem. Only foolish Americans will ignore that problem. If we get into a war, we shall have trouble on our hands, unless we act quick and act first. Those who call every opponent a "fifth columnist" are very foolish; but those who say there are no fifth columnists are bigger fools still.

There are venturesome times just ahead of us. If we have to spend half of our income, in the next five years, in a fight for our freedom, or for the continued right to fight FOR our freedom, it is a cheap cost even at that price.

This is America. God will save it, if we do our derneest to help him.

TWO ARMED MEN STAGE HOLDUP IN MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Jan. 24. (ANP)—Two armed men early Saturday morning held up B. S. Spears, white, secretary-treasurer of the Chickasaw Oil mill as he was preparing the firm's payroll in the company office. They fled with $400.

Where Democracy Fails

From Opportunity

The most astonishing revelation that has come out of the general ballyhoo for defense preparation has been the stubborn unwillingness of officials of the United States Army and Navy to subordinate their personal attitudes on race for the sake of national unity on the one hand, and the brutal exclusion by management of Negroes from industrial plants, either as workmen or apprentices, on the other.

One, of course, does not expect the military mind to be fully aware of social advance. The bureaucrats in the War and Navy departments apparently have the same conception of race relations as was commonly held about 1890. They cannot be changed by persuasion and logic. They will not be moved by considerations of fairness and justice. They are not fully cognizant of the implication of democracy when it comes to the Negro. They may receive orders from the Chief Executive, but unless he implements those orders in detail they will find a way to emasculate them.

It is surprising, however, to find industrialists, men who are supposed to be socially intelligent, for no reason that can even remotely be considered valid, adopting a policy of racial repression which one expects to find only in those countries which have adopted the methods

SEVEN FOR THE SHELF

Seven young men from this county, Draft Board Five, were ordered to enter selective service last week—and they are headed for the shelf. These young men, whose parents and grandparents and great-grandparents helped build this great nation, will be segregated, put into a program of militarization not anxious to have them nor ready even for their coming.

Naturalized foreigners, aliens, Chinese, Germans, Italians, and all others except the colored citizen may enter any branch of service without difficulty. These others will suffer no discrimination, they will serve their adopted country wherever they wish and our boys will be shunted to the shelf—in all the highest cause of preserving a democracy which, at best, peers with very near-sighted eyes upon colored America.

POLICYMAKERS

Now that a member has been named to the State Education Board according to dictates of the law, there is reason to believe that a long step in the right direction has been made. In order to be of most service to this state and to the country, it is imperative that persons in key positions be chosen, ones who have no axe to grind, no god to serve but that of loyalty to their people, no higher nor stronger urge than honor and integrity. The persons who serve in these key positions must help shape the policy along democratic lines, to the end that the too common practice of not including us be cut short. Some of the power and glory—but the fewer for prestige and the more plentiful for policy, the greater and the stronger our democratic government.

Much credit must be given those who, several years ago, fought for and won passage of the bill which brought a dash of democracy to this state. Grace Wilson Evans conceived the bill and had it drawn and sponsored and all Indiana, white and colored, should thank her for "hitting a lick in the name of democracy."

LIFE TERM FOR MURDER

Citizens of Indianapolis applauded Dewey E. Myers, judge of criminal court, because he has sentenced a man convicted of murder to a life term in prison. It has been the contention of this newspaper and of a great many good citizens that stiff sentences in the cases of murder and violence convictions would serve as a check in some of these matters.

When an individual has, because of too frequent precedent, the idea that he will serve but eighteen months or a bit longer, the restraining influence of the law loses its power. That power has suffered greatly in recent years and the parade of convicted persons receiving mild sentences has brought a wave of disbelief in the processes of the law in this county; and the general offices and their officers into wide disrepute. Judge Myers did not go out of his way—he administered the law and for such action will be praised by the law-and-order citizens of Indianapolis.

THE TASK

Seventy-five thousand heard President Roosevelt declare in his inaugural address at "democracy is not dying," that he dedicates his third administration to the protection and perpetuation of "the integrity of democracy." "It (democracy) is the most humane, the most advanced, and in the end, most unconquerable of all forms of human society."

Conquered Europeans, former citizens of democracies (broad usage permitted), and thirteen million underprivileged colored persons heard or read the President's oratorical support of democracy.

The task, says the chief executive, is to save "the nation and its institutions from disruption from without." Do democracies exist without rights for all? The term appears to have two meanings.

BOOSTING THE NEGRO PRESS

A praiseworthy project is being sponsored by the Delta Phi Delta Journalistic society, in interest of the Negro Press. It is the plan of this organization to feature March 9 to 15 as "Bigger and Better Newspaper Week." The theme of the observation is to be: "The Negro Press Is An Institution." It is anticipated that leading newspapers of our group in all sections of the country will cooperate.

We cannot too enthusiastically commend this timely and progressive step, for surely Negro newspapers deserve greater support and encouragement from the public.

Many people do not seem to realize that Negro newspapers are business concerns and must be operated on a business basis. Newspapers have to earn money, in order to pay for editorial and mechanical service, printing supplies and various other items of fixed overhead expense. No publication, whether operated by our own or other racial groups, can afford to give away "everything," including its advertising space, and still stay in business and serve the public efficiently. Yet, this is exactly what some narrow-minded individuals expect a Negro newspaper to do.

This attitude will gradually change, however, and worthy Negro newspapers will receive more and more recognition and patronage from our people, as well as from the white public. The Negro Press is making rapid headway and in spite of handicaps, will continue to go forward, expanding in plant facilities and creating more jobs for trained young men and women journalists.

The Detroit Tribune heartily congratulates the Delta Phi Delta Journalistic society upon its efforts to boost and stimulate the Negro Press. We share with the sponsoring organization the hope that this fine project will stimulate a greater interest in journalism among colored youth, to the end that they may seek journalistic training, thereby increasing their ability to interpret intelligently the Negro to America.

—Detroit Tribune.

JEWS—NEGROES

A newspaper account telling about a Nazi decree requiring the registration of all Jews in Holland should furnish food for thought to the people of this country who mistreat minority groups, particularly the Negroes in America. The news story reads in part:

"All Jews must register within six weeks in an official 'list of populations' under a decree issued by the German commissioner for The Netherlands. Persons having only one Jewish grandparent will be classified as Jews, the decree held, and a grandparent who belonged to a Jewish congregation will be regarded as a full-blooded Jew. Failure to register will be punishable by fines and imprisonment up to five years. At Amsterdam, where there are more Jews than in any other Netherlands city, the registration period will be extended to 12 weeks."

The purpose of the listing is in order that no Jew will escape the discrimination and mistreatment that will be placed upon this group by the Nazis.

In America the Negroes have a similar classification. That is, some states hold that you are a "Negro" if there is one-sixteenth of Negro blood in your veins. We see little difference, if any, between the Fascists in Europe and the Fascists in America when it comes to racial prejudices and racial discriminations which affect the Negroes. Those who are ready to condemn the Nazi way should look about themselves and see what is being done in their own front yards.

CRUISING 'ROUND

(BY L. J. MARTIN)

1.—Propaganda and us.

War Propaganda as it effects the Negro is beginning to be a problem for the group—especially our newspapers and publications. As a race the Negro has been loyal to his country in the times of danger or threatening danger. As a minority group we have always had grievances, both real and imaginary against the majority group, and yet in the time of national distress the Negro has always submerged such grievances, in the hope that after danger was over that they would be accorded a greater share of the country's blessings, only to find their lot status-quo or less.

This time, seeing through all the war propaganda from the four corners of the earth—few Negroes have been preaching and teaching the ideology of different political leaders of the world—and have succeeded to a large degree, in fact so successful until there is strong under current of indifference, as to the success or failure of Great Britain in the present war—and there are only two or three reasons why there is not, an outspoken opposition against aid to Britain—those are:

- 1.—Mussolini's massacre in Ethiopia.
- 2.—Hitler's castration of Negroes in Germany.
- 3.—Franklin Roosevelt's leadership.

If it were not for these reasons backed up by the fear of "fifth column" propaganda, there would be greater leaning towards those who tell us with facts—that the Bendis Corporation has thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of Government orders—yet DOES NOT employ ONE Negro. That hundreds of other plants, handling millions of dollars worth of Government contracts, conduct schools of training for workers—but not Negro workers and even public facilities that could be used for training, are denied the youth of the race, on no other grounds than color—and the lack of "patriotic backbone" of those in charge.

THUS WHEN propagandists lay down seemingly invincible proof of Henry Ford's alleged Nazi sympathies, and Government agencies cite "The Ford Company for this or that—the common statement heard among members of the race is—'Well maybe so, but Ford has been fair to our race and I am for Ford!'"

THE NEGRO, realizing that as far as he is able to obtain, the American standard of living offers more pleasure and comfort than any other country—he also knows that the pain and sacrifice necessary to obtain and maintain such a standard is a long and tedious one to many, the majority of Americans, and doubly so to Black Americans—he further realizes that these special clans, cliques and laws are so designed as to make his way the hardest way—the only Negroes who can borrow money for anything are the few taken in as a sham proof of the institution's fairness. Even Government leading agencies practice the same prejudice under the guise of sound business. Negroes have no love for the unaccommodating Jew who would live and do business among them—who takes all and gives little or nothing in return.

IN THE face of war propaganda he chants the group of loyalty—hoping his lot will be better, or at least the same, fearful it would be worse if England loses. It's squarely up to the able and employing America and the able labor leaders to make a greater place in American life for a race of proven loyal men and women.

WE TEST DEMOCRACY.

SAYS WALTER WHITE.

NEW YORK. — "Fourteen million American Negro citizens," represent a "living challenge," to the "Governments claim of building a defense program that will stand as a bulwark for the preservation of democracy in America," Walter White said in a statement issued here today.

The statement which constituted a message to members of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was issued in connection with the organization's forthcoming celebration of National Defense Day on Sunday, January 26, when a nation-wide protest will be launched against discrimination suffered by Negro citizens in the defense program. The complete text of the statement which appears on the front page of the N. A. A. C. P., bulletin for January follows.

"14,000,000 American Negro citizens, whose valor and fighting spirit has never been questioned throughout the history of our country, stand today a living challenge to our Government's claim of building a national defense program that will stand as a bulwark for the preservation of democracy in America."

"President Roosevelt has told the nation that he 'would ask no one to defend a democracy which in turn would not defend every one in the nation against want and privation.' And yet the head of our Government has asked the Negro citizens of this country, bowed down under the yoke of discrimination in every avenue of life, segregated in the Army and Navy, excluded from the Air Corps, and denied jobs in national defense industry to defend this type of democracy."

"The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People believe that you will want to tell President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson; Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, and the members of Congress from your district, just how you feel about this vitally important question. The Association believes that whatever means you use to make your desires known, whether by delegation, resolution, post card, or telegram, you must do it through an organized campaign of militant action. We must make our Government understand that the real test of Democracy in America is the treatment of the country's largest minority, the Negro citizen. We must let them know that America's treatment of the Negro is the test of whether our Democracy is really working."

YOUR HEALTH IS YOUR WEALTH

CHILBLAIN HAZARDS

Temperatures do not have to go below freezing to cause frostbite. A golf player decided even though the weather was windy and there was a drizzle and his clothes were wet, it was getting colder and the wind was from the lake, that he would show them he could take it and finished out his round of 18 holes, and he managed to get gangrene of three toes from it. Also cases are frequent in tunnel workers. These cases used to be called "trench foot."

The American Congress of Physical Therapy this fall discussed the problems of frostbite and chilblains very fully.

"Individuals with wet clothing, shoes or gloves, are particularly susceptible to the effect of cold weather," Dr. Frank V. Theis of Chicago told the congress. Dr. Theis, who is known for his researches on circulatory diseases of the extremities, urged physicians to look carefully into the history of frostbite victims and be sure the patient is not the victim of some pre-existing circulatory disorder. Middle-aged people with even a small amount of hardening of the arteries are susceptible. Any person over 40 who has developed diabetes is automatically suspect of arterial change in the feet and should be warned against the dangers of wet and exposure even in above-zero weather.

In these people a small amount of change in the appearance of the feet may be dismissed too carelessly, as not amounting to frostbite. Or they receive unsatisfactory treatment of the condition. The use of heat on frostbite is especially contraindicated. This is an old story but gets to the point. From the work that has been done on cases of circulatory disorders of the extremities which conduce to frostbite and chilblains, it has been found that the arteries in these cases being inelastic and not as easily dilated as normal arteries,

THE OLD AGE PENSION

AND 1941 LEGISLATURE

I am wondering if the 1941 Indiana legislature will give equal pensions to white and colored alike, which is not being done at the present time.

It has come to the place here in Indianapolis that a man, if he is colored, can not BUY a job, even. And if he is over forty years old, well then a job is out of the question. The grocer charges as just the same for food as he does the white man. Then, why should there be any difference in our pensions? After all, it takes just as much to keep our family as it does to keep the other man's.

When we reach the age of forty and they say we are too old to work and the insurance company will not insure us at the plants and factories, then I say, cut the Old Age Pension down to fifty years, instead of seventy, and make the pension fifty dollars a month to all—regardless of creed or color.

By giving each person fifty dollars a month, that is those who are over fifty years and are residents of the state, it would eliminate the trustees and do away with the poor farms. Needy persons would have enough to take care of themselves and would have no need for such institutions.

After all, we are only human and ask for no special privileges. — only an equal opportunity to care for our families as the other man cares for his. It would pay all of us to go to the State House during this session and get in touch with J. C. Allen of South Bend and James Hunter of East Chicago, both of whom are in the House; and R. L. Brokenburr who is in the Senate. They are all fine broad-minded men and would like to talk to you on the Old Age question. Whoever introduces a bill of this nature and it becomes a law, will not have hard time being re-elected.

For everyone who is more than fifty years of age would help to put him over. I am hoping to see a large crowd at the State House if this comes up, for it would have a great influence on the members of the law-making body. Let us work together in peace and harmony and love one another.

ries, respond to heat very badly and as a matter of fact, the heat simply works on the tissues without producing the desired effect of opening up the blood vessels and may cause mummification.

"Heat or energetic massage should be used with great caution in all cases of peripheral circulatory diseases," said Dr. Theis.

The temperature should be raised gradually and the circulation increased very slowly and to do this the old methods of using snow, cold water and gentle rubbing are generally recommended.

Once a person has had a frostbite or chilblain, he is subject to it repeatedly, and these people belong in the same category as those with peripheral circulatory disease in that they should be particularly careful of wet weather, whether it is below freezing or not.

LET THIS BE YOU

To you I take off my hat—
Because you have been so loyal
To a very constructive cause:
Which was easy for you to EM-

BROIL.

It often takes courage
Sometimes (guts)
Excuse that expression please!
But since I've said it I must admit

My conscience, is more at ease.

You don't double CROSS
Nor be deceitful
Or even try to pretend
"Not accusing some-one-else,

Because you don't have a friend
You don't gloat and glow
Over "daggers" back-biting
Nor when misfortune comes

Comes some one's way
You are always cautious
About your remarks
You don't let them run astray.

At least, that's what I think of you
So I hope you are NOT DECEIVING—
For you to be something "else" is far beyond my BELIEVING.

LOVE

I love you and you love me
We'll sit underneath a tree
We'll make Valentines just you and me.

It will say, "I love you so don't feel blue."
You'll be just like new.
Then we'll be so happy and gay,
Till soon we'll find ourselves across a bay.

On a lovely day.
He began to say, "She said That's fine."

And we'll catch fish on a line
It will be yours and mine
Would that be a lovely Valentine?
So, Divine

Yours amine.
And it will make a lovely design.

'WHEN THE DALTONS RODE' STARTS SUNDAY AT EAST SIDE THEATRE

SUNDAY — MONDAY
With all the screen's frontier epics of the past leading up to it, Universal has now filmed the greatest single adventure in Western history.

Authorities agree that for daring bravery and foolhardiness, the attempt of the celebrated Dalton gang to stage a double bank robbery in Coffeyville, Kan., back in 1892 is unparalleled in frontier annals.

Re-enacted in Film.
The episode is a climaxing highlight of "When the Daltons Rode" playing Sunday at the Park Theatre, with Randolph Scott and Kay Francis in the leading roles, and with Brian Donlevy, George Bancroft, Broderick Crawford, Andy Devine, Stuart Erwin, Frank Albertson and Mary Gordon heading a distinguished supporting cast.

Also, "Love, Honor and Oh Baby." Another chapter of the thrilling "Mysterious Dr. Satan."

The most important of the love stories happens to be a triangular affair, one in which Gary Cooper, cast as Dusty Rivers, a Texas Ranger, and Preston Foster, playing Brett, Sergeant of the Mounted, both become romantically persuaded to the loveliness of Madeleine Carroll, seen as April Logan, a charming nurse at a settlement in the Canadian northwest called Batoche.

Also, "Dr. Christian Meets the Woman."

DOT LAMOUR AND HENRY FONDA IN PIC

SUNDAY — MONDAY — TUESDAY — WEDNESDAY

Colorful, earthy people and the vivid, thrilling drama behind the creaking wagons of a wandering tent show were thrillingly brought to life in 20th Century-Fox's superb screen version of Walter D. Edmonds' best selling novel "Chad Hanna," which opens Sunday at the Walker Theatre. Filmed in glorious Technicolor and handsomely produced, the new hit stars Henry Fonda, Dorothy Lamour, and Linda Darnell in one of the most tender and absorbing love stories of the year.

Set in the turbulent 1830's with the adventurous, early Erie Canal as its background, the novel story depicted in "Chad Hanna" revolves around the adventures of a simple country boy, Henry Fonda, who is so dazzled by the sultry allure of the wandering tent show's bareback rider, Albany Yates, played by Dorothy Lamour, that he joins the outfit.

Also, another hit from the "Blondie" series, "Blondie Plays Cupid."

THURSDAY — FRIDAY — SATURDAY

They are played by Fred MacMurray, mastermind of the marauding trio; Albert Dekker, a brawling fool who never uses his gun where his hands will do; Gilbert Roland, a handsome Latin whose romantic heart gets him into more trouble than his friends can fight their way out of. Also, "Dancing on a Dime," with Robert Paige and Grace MacDonald.

IN THE GROOVE

ELIZABETH BRIZENTINE-TAFT alias YE SCRIBE

Last week, you perhaps remember reading about my idea of starting a waitress club — well — nobody has approached me as yet, or should I say, I haven't perhaps approached the right persons — but nevertheless, we can get together with the idea about a waitress training class — why in Evansville, and by the way, that happens to be in Indiana — so it can be done! They have a waitress training class where waitresses receive instructions until they have earned their certificate, which certificate is handed out upon the merits of their learning and they present said certificate when applying for a job — its sponsored by the J. C. Bruckner company — now perhaps we won't find a company to sponsor us but I have a statement from Sam Osborne, who incidentally started this talk, that wherever we have enough girls, he will see that we have efficient teachers from downtown hotels — now who wants to actually be trained as a waitress — ? Say the word, by coming in The Indianapolis Recorder and leaving your name with Bettye Taft. We'll show everybody something — and in the meantime, think about Girlie Rogers idea about starting a waitress club — its time women were doing things too — this is 1941, you know — supposedly the YEAR! its still talk, but very good talk, and I'm expecting some results — that is if, you like my kind of talk and will cooperate with me — !Now that the orchestras, (Your favorite and mine) are continuing to come on in new songs here's a few that remind me of certain people — "Summit Ridge Mount," by Artie Shaw — Lee O. Green, however, Lee says he never was as erratic as that whatever means.

"Romance In The Dark," or everybody who used to hate the blues until this one came out — and by the way, as an afterthought, why don't you send in letters to me, and tell me why you dislike or like "Romance In The Dark". Personally, I never liked blues either, but there's something about this one that sets me wild. Perhaps its the word Romance — anyway, it was something, don't you think? — "I'll Never Smile Again", all the women who think that they've been mistreated by some man! (to-wit) — "In a Mellow Tone" by Ellington. Lee Lewis, because he seemingly gets says he always wanted to play a such a kick out of it, because he saxophone — "Chicken Ain't Nothin but a Bird" — Tony Boyd and Sam (red) English — ask them why? — "Beat Me Daddy, Eight to the Bar", Anna Mae Rhoades-Carr, maybe because it has the word bar in it, — don't take offense, Anna, I said, "Maybe" — "Do I Worry?" by the Ink Spots, Henrietta Richardson, because I think she's one girl who gets the best out of life — I mean she really enjoys living, and I don't believe she worries about a thing. "I Want A Little Girl", J. St. Clair Gibson, because he seems to enjoy Basie's music; "Just a Rosmer" Richard Othello Smith, because he has such a roaming mind. "It's Torture", Marian Powell, because she sometimes gets in a blue mood. Eddie Duchin's theme song, W. Chester Hibbett, because it has the word dreams connected with it, not that Chester is a day dreamer, but I'm confident, he has dreams which will come true! and not when his ship comes in either. People don't have ships coming in any more, they're canoes! (To-wit) — "After Hours", myself, because I'm usually roaming, then, (to-wit) — "Nona", Jeff Means, because it has such fine tenor "get off's". "Down Argentine Way", Timmie James, because she seems to be South Americanish, while she's listening to it — "I'm Only Human", Sen. Ferguson, because the commish seemed to forget that fact — — "The World Is Mad", by Basie, Charles Allensworth, and ask him why? — "What's Your Story Morning Glory", all the would be cats, those who are hen and those who ain't — and last but not least, "God Bless America", Frank R. Beckwith, because he gets such a thrill out of singing it. —

City-Wide Recreation

By Wesley O. Jackson

Flanner House

The staff meeting of last Monday found many vacant seats. Louis Goens, WPA supervisor, and several of the recreation members, are in training at the U. B. church. But the gang will only be parted for a week. Last week another group was in training and lots of fun was had by the WPA group who attended.

School No. 26

Earl Hoskins stole a march on the rest of the zone and started a City Government plan at the John Hope club. The boys have their official all elected and are cur pits catching it when they break the laws. Harold Madden, is Mayor, Chas. Hester, secretary, Ralph Austin, Judge, and Wm Strong is chief of police. Policemen are Robert Dyeus, Leo Madden, C. Coward, and Lester Smith. Members of the City Council are J. Smith, Jefferson Cliff, Jas. Allen, and Jas. Goodall. The various boards convene every Tuesday and at that time law violators are hauled into court. Several sentences have been passed on during the last session. The John Hope net team which was just started might make a name for themselves if they practice hard. George Miller, junior recreation leader has fitted well into the program.

Ray St. Center

Edward Denny pulled a smooth one out of the fire when he started selecting boy leaders to police the center and each day he has a new leader in charge. Last week Albert Lee, Jewell Gill, Clayton Sayles, Livily Bryant and Willis Bellamy were in charge. Hats come off at the door with the alert youngsters on the job. The Mothers club was unable to secure the services of Ola Beecher and until the program is able to supply another worker, Mrs. I. Nathan will carry on the work of the club. The craft classes under the direction of Helen Brooks reach a new high last week when the average daily attendance was seventy-five girls. A class in cooking is in the making and Miss Brooks plans to start a short course in hairdressing. The Ray center is appealing to kindness of some interested person who might have an old kitchen cabinet that is not in use, to be given so that they might complete their model kitchen. Anna Smith of the NYA is assisting Helen in her craft work. Plans for a shop for the boys is also being planned.

St. Rita's

The St. Rita girls volleyball team which is a member of the CYO volleyball league played its first game after one time practice on St. Joan of Arc's floor against Little Flower Monday, Feb. 13th. Little Flower had practiced quite a bit. At the half Little Flower was 17 and St. Rita 5. At the finish Little Flower 29, St. Rita, 26. St. Rita girls played jam up ball in the last half. After a few more days of practice, watch St. Rita's smoke. St. Rita is the only colored team in the league and its presence is due to the never tiring efforts of Father Strange and Father Gerdon. Pull for St. Rita's girls.

The St. Rita boys basketball team played first B. B. Church Thursday, February 14th and were beaten 26-6. St. Rita's team is only one and a half months old started from scratch and never played before. We are looking for a get beat, but St. Rita can take it. All practice is done on Hill Center's floor. The girls are instructed by Hill's staff headed by Mrs. Russell and the boys headed by Mr. Floyd, Edward Kheslegan is WPA leader for boys, Miss McDowell, WPA leader for girls.

Hill News

Friday night the Hill Center Juniors met and lost to the Athletics Midweek 26-14. The Hill boys evidently can not stand the strain of new suits, the large floor, a full house and the Athletics. Better luck next time. The Hill Center table tennis team, undefeated this season, will journey to Lockfield this week in an attempt to carry on the victory string. Thursday night Lockfield basketball teams came to Hills.

The Golden Glove assembly at the Hill center made a nice showing the first night at Butler Field house Friday night with John Douglas, Frank Tunstall, and Young Evans winning their bouts in decisive form. Amos Moran was butted out of the running but plans revenge in the novice tournament in March. Amos' eye got in the way of a wild head movement, so Amos had a shiner (which is covered by a huge steak).

BLUNT TAKES BUDDY BAER 'IN TO CAMP'

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 24 (ANF)—Eddie Blunt of New York scored a stunning 10 round upset victory over Buddy Baer before 5,000 fans Wednesday night. Baer, younger and heavier brother of Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, entered the ring a 2-1-2 favorite.

a number of straight lefts to Baer's face and short right uppercuts to the jaw. Baer rallied in the eighth and shot across a hard right that almost put Blunt out, but in the last two rounds Blunt came back strong to take the decision. The loser weighed 243 to 219 for Blunt. The latter recently was kayoed in less than two rounds by Lem Franklin in Chicago, former Cleveland Golden Glover who is being currently dodged by fight heavyweights. Buddy Baer has often been spoken of as a possible challenger for Joe Louis's title.

HENRY ARMSTRONG HONORED AT BOXING WRITERS' DINNER

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (ANF)—More than 200 ring followers paid tribute Thursday night to Henry Armstrong, the only boxer ever to hold three world championships at the same time.

The New York Renaissance professional basketball team trimmed the Indianapolis Kautskys, 53 to 49, last night at the Butler Field House before 5,000 spectators. The smooth-working pros assaulted the netting for two dozen field goals, assuming a lead they never relinquished after eight minutes of action in the initial quarter.

Wilmeth Sider-Singh, sensational star, and the Kautskys' Jewell Young, former Purdue ace, tied for individual scoring honors with 18 marker a piece. Close behind was "Pop" Gates of the victors with 16.

"Closed the Books" But Jim Coward Case Has Not Been Sidetracked

By Bill Newton

NEW YORK CITY—Shakily, NYU authorities have "closed" the book on the Jim Coward case. With audible sighs, they are congratulating themselves that the Negro case still is "ineligible" despite all the "agitation," the boners, foolish admissions, and reactionary bravado.

But NYU students know that the case is very much open. Although they failed to force their administration to make Coward eligible for this month's Georgetown and North Carolina games, they're not counting the month-long nation-wide struggle a failure. While NYU's Coward-less five is touring the South—with a loss to Georgetown already on its books—Violent students, acting through their organizations, are counting the results of the campaign as the semester ends.

Sitting in his office, Athletic Director Philip O. Badger may insist that he won't "insult" NYU Negroes by taking them South in Jim Crow railroad coaches—but he can't ignore the demands of students and coaches from North Carolina, Georgetown, and Alabama that NYU halt its own Jim Crow stand policy and cease taking it for granted that Southern athletes and students are undemocratic.

Chancellor Chase and Dean McConnell of NYU may say that "the time has not yet arrived" for the Violent to take a Negro athlete down South, and lean on technical questions of "eligibility" to hide the weakness of their Jim Crow stand policy and cease taking it for granted that Southern athletes and students are undemocratic.

After a brief silence, U.S. the Feds talk about billiards. The Ivory Club is growing in numbers and popularity. Interest in games sometimes drawing as many spectators as our athletic games. One interesting incident Gerald Bunch brought the Missus down to show her what kept him down to the game and knocked a round a few herself. And talk about the worm that never turns, little George Harde, who has of late taken more beatin than a carpet, got himself a left hind rabbit foot and for a little while was master of all he met. He "turned out" in rapid succession, DeFranz, Brent, Lewis, Foster, and gave Bunch and Squire a "run" for their money, and then triumphed again over the "Chief" a second time. Great stuff George, keep it up.

Flash—Dr. Robert Hatch was seen in the Billiard Hall the other day. "His office had to call twice to dislodge him. Dean Baughman holds the High Chair by the front table, like Judge Landis observing every stroke on the table. Such a long standing love of the game deserves some mention. Remember that old slogan "Meet your friends in the 'Y' Billiard Hall".

And the results add up. NYU's administration may attempt to pass off the courageous Council for Student Equality, which first smoked out their Jim Crowing of Coward, as a "band of agitators"—but it can't laugh off leaflets issued by such diverging student groups as sororities, political organizations, discussion clubs, peace committees, and other representative groups.

The student council quoted Chancellor H. Woodburn Chase in the following and we quote: "In our judgment the time has not arrived when southern institutions can be asked to play against Negro players on southern campuses."

Flash—The Lion Pioneer Club, School 87, opened their meeting with the ritual. David Long led the discussion. The subject was "Self-Reliance," taken from the Pioneer Way of Living, hand-book. Plans for taking in new members and attending the Life Builders Club were discussed. Mrs. Irene Metzger is sponsor.

The Patron Pioneer Club, School 4, had a call meeting last Thursday to make plans for the election of new officers to fill those made vacant by graduation. Boys present included Arthur Paul, David Snyder, Adolph Edwards, James Bibbs, John Bell, and Walter Penick. The sponsors are Mrs. Mildred Orrid and Mrs. Mattie Rhea. 28TH ANNUAL FATHER AND SON BANQUET

Flash—The Lion Pioneer Club, School 87, won the plaque for the second time. Having forty-two boys present. Others schools represented were Nos. 4, 17, 23, 26, 37, 40, 57 and Crispus Attacks. Visitors were Mrs. Marian Davis, Mrs. Indro M. Davis, mother and grandmother of Jack Davis. Robert Collins, and Miss Rothello Collins, father and sister of Robert Collins, Jr.

The Streamliners for last Sunday were Melvin Gilton, Robert Stone, Julius Rhodes, and Russell Pope. School 23, William Maye and William Pope. School 17, Eddie Stanley. School 26: Rooney Stanley and Marvin Burnett. School 4 and Mark McMiller. School 57.

Be A Good Neighbor. The members of the Life Builders Club are doing an excellent work in bringing new boys to the meetings giving them an opportunity to see what interesting programs are given for their entertainment and development. The following boys were "Good Neighbors":

Matthew Nolox, principal of School 4, will be the speaker at the Life Builders Club Sunday, 2:30 p. m. Each year the boys look forward to the coming of Mr. Nolox. Members of the Pioneer Club will render music. All boys are invited to attend.

All hands voted for the St. Louis gamecock because of his many defenses of the welter crown together with his thrilling kayo of Lew Jenkins just prior to the gory shindig with Zivich.

BEATIN' THE GUN

NEW YORK, Jan. — LITTLE HENRY ARMSTRONG, looking as fit as the night we New Yorkers voted him the best "little man" since the days of our grandfathers, was awarded boxing's outstanding trophy a fortnight ago. Gathered together with the "mighty mite of fistiana" at Jacob Ruppert's brewery were scores of the town's best sports writers, Jack Dempsey, plaque winner in '39, and Billy Conn last season's winner.

The plaque presented Armstrong by genial Murray Lewin of the Daily News Sports department is given yearly for the most "meritorious service" to boxing, and is known as the Edward J. Nell trophy, in memory of that hale sportsman and writer who departed this life a few seasons ago.

We still think Armstrong should lay up his gauntlets—stop all these ugly rumors about domestic affairs (how the scandal-mongers will leap on you Hank when they get you kood), and enter a business, or further his career in one of two fields. (P. S. In a Sunday radio broadcast, Armstrong refused to predict the Zivich fight, but — in the gym to your favorite commentator, he said "I'll be champion again, sure thing".

A BROADWAY COLUMNIST, has all Harlem in a "whispering campaign" over that crack that Joe Louis would shortly reap the nationwide censure Jack Johnson earned due to certain philanderings out — Detroit way?? When a guy (and we definitely refer to a "colored guy") — holds "first mortgage" on a world's championship in any branch of sport, needless to add, — becomes a "clay-pigeon." That is to say — something to be shot at by all and sundry. Our records contain no case history of the private or secular lives of such men and women as Louis, Billy Conn, Alice Marble, Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Henry Armstrong, Donald Budge, or Willie Hoppe. And since a greater portion of our friends and readers are inclined to regard us as the type of hombre known as a "man's man" — that strikes us as it ought to be.

Sports Slants

In the World of Sports they say "They Seldom Come Back." But when a man of the sport world bows such a gallant adieu as did Henry "Hank" Armstrong, the least we could say is a champion never throws in his gloves. In the years to come when generations now far removed will appear on the scenes they will always refer back to the little champ that was always "In There." Feeling as I do I had planned to do a column on the mighty little fellow but Dan Parker is my peer. . . . Here's his version.

HENRY ARMSTRONG, a prodigious heart sounding a death rattle in a hollow shell, came to trail's end Friday night in the arena where he wrote one of the most brilliant chapters in all pugilistic history.

It was the 12th round of his return bout with Fritz Zivich who stripped him of his third and last title, the welterweight crown, last October. Henry, pitifully outclassed from the opening punch, had been told by Referee Arthur Donovan at the end of the tenth, as he slumped in his corner, blinking through blood-smeared slits of eyes, that if he didn't fare any better than he had been doing against his relentless foe, the fight would be stopped in the next round.

So, little Henry stumbled out of his corner in the eleventh and put every bit of juice left in his storage battery into a heart-stirring rally that brought the greatest boxing crowd in Madison Square Garden's history to its feet, wildly acclaiming him. It was the kid's last spurt. He didn't have a thing left in the twelfth and after 52 seconds of butchery, the referee stopped it. Thus, bloody but unbowed, the greatest little champion of this or any other era passed out of the picture.

Fritz Zivich "winner and still champion," left the ring almost unnoticed after doing the executioner's job. Henry stumbled down the steps into his secure place in pugilistic history, hailed like a conqueror. Always a good winner, Henry was an even better loser, a great little warrior of whom his race may feel eternally proud.

Henry never gives up and so isn't an easy guy to give up on. That accounts for the utterly illogical fact that he entered the ring a 6 to 5 favorite. Sentiment rather than common sense dictated those preposterous odds. And many shrewd Broadway gamblers who are seldom reached by such a silly emotion as sentiment allowed their hearts to rule their heads on this occasion.

It took no longer than the first scuffle between the pair for everyone in the crowd of 23,190 to realize Henry was all through—and when I say everyone, I mean to include Henry himself. Here was only a faint shadow of the Armstrong of two and a half years ago who held the featherweight, lightweight and welterweight titles simultaneously; and unsteady, shuffling, bobbing caricature of the buzz-saw which used to cut sharply on contact. His judgment of distance was so far off one wondered if Henry's vision wasn't defective. His punches had no more effect on Zivich than a fly-swatter would have on a bald eagle. And those tender-looking scars on his eyebrows which so recently had the attention of the surgeon's scalpel — they couldn't possibly withstand the Tommie gun fusillades of lefts with which Zivich peppered him from the opening gong.

Zivich was coldly cruel in his attack but clean, in the profession's conception of the word. To him Armstrong was no ring immortal who merited special consideration because he was on the way out, but an opponent to take his title who must be disposed of as quickly as possible. The Bummy Davis Boogie Band which made its presence felt with a Brownsville Bazzoo that almost tore down the top galleries when Zivich was introduced, was ready to interpret any hair-line punch as a foul and was constantly on the lookout for thumb-work, elbow stabbing and other forbidden tactics. But they grudgingly gave up after a few rounds when they realized that even if Fritz were the foulest fighter in the world, he wouldn't have to resort to transgressions of the rules on this occasion. He hit Henry at will and without letup. Mostly, the fighting was at close quarters with Zivich chopping Henry's face with short jolts as if rhythmically punching a bag. When Henry stood off and tried to box him, Fritz just peppered him with lefts until he was blinded with the gloves. Often Henry would seek bomb-proof shelter of a clinch and just lie against Fritz, exhausted.

Soon enough, the tender skin on Henry's belabored brows broke and started bleeding. That was the ominous signal that the end was at hand.

At the close of the tenth Referee Donovan, misquoting an old saying, leaned over to the press box and said: "The hand-writing is all over the wall," then walked over to Henry's corner and put it up to him.

"You can't win, Henry, and you won't quit, so what am I going to do?" he asked.

"Just leave it go on," pleaded Henry. "I'm all right."

"I'll give you one more round," said Donovan, walking away. Henry had just one more round left in him — as glorious a round as any he ever fought. And when it was through, so was Henry, as was soon enough revealed in the twelfth.

Once in an aeon we have a fighter as great as Henry Armstrong. It was sad to see him go but for once I was proud to be a loser.

AL BROWN'S BOUT WITH 'UNCLE SAM' TO BE DECIDED

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (ANF)—Panama Al Brown, former bantamweight champion who recently pleaded guilty in federal court to charges of using and peddling narcotics, must wait until March 13 before he learns what disposition Judge Edward A. Conger will make of his case.

The ex-titleholder, who has ring earnings of around $280,000 tied up in real estate in German-occupied France, came to court Wednesday to be sentenced. When he told Judge Conger that a number of his friends had offered to help him and that he had hopes of a job

PROJECT WILL SLASH SLUMS AT PUERTO RICO

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It will be moving day soon in Puerto Rico; moving day for 310 families who will pick up their children, personal possessions, dogs, cats, goats and — biggest of all — their houses, and set them all down in a new location.

These will be the first of 340 families who are to be moved back and baggage to Caserio Borinquen, unique low-rent housing development financed with a loan from the United States Housing Authority.

Called locally the "land and utilities scheme" the plan, the first of its kind in USHA annals, is designed to improve the living conditions of families with incomes far below those of most low-income families on the mainland.

At present on the heights above Ponce stands one of the strangest collections of shacks ever seen in an American possession. These shacks, built by their owners of scrap lumber and old tin sheets, stand on ground owned by the city or private individuals. For the use of the land the owners pay anywhere from 25 cents to $2 a month. Since a builder could place his house wherever he found a vacant bit of land, there are no discernible streets.

Women must go, frequently, several hundred yards for such water as is available. Sanitary conveniences are of a type which would seem primitive even in the rural United States. Rookworm natural abundance and there is a constant threat of typhoid fever and other diseases due to insanitary conditions.

The head of a family in this neighborhood earns an average of about $3 a week. And the families are large.

Under the land and utilities scheme the Ponce Housing Authority has purchased a large tract of land to which many of these "houses" can be moved. They will be placed in neat rows, 10 or 15 to an acre. All will be shrewdly

For the first time in the lives of most residents there will be plenty of water for baths. Each family will have a private bathroom with a shower, toilet facilities connected up with a sanitary sewer and a clean outside laundry bench with running water.

Since the families will bring their own houses to the project these baths cannot be built in the orthodox fashion. Instead they are modern adaptations of the familiar rural facility. For economy four bathrooms are grouped together to form one small concrete building. For convenience each building is located at the intersection of the rear lot lines of four tenant yards. Thus each family has a private bath opening onto its back yard a short distance from the house.

The contract for the construction of enough of these units for 210 families has already been approved by USHA.

The rent for the land on which the houses will be placed and the sanitary units will amount to 50 cents a month per house, including water. This will include periodic whitewashings and upkeep of the sanitary units.

Puerto Rico, an island of immense importance in the nation's defense plans, is smaller than any of the states with the exception of Delaware and Rhode Island. Nevertheless it must support a population of 1,839,245 — a population of almost 100,000 more than the entire state of New York. The island has created a housing problem insoluble by methods which might be applicable to the United States. If Ponce's housing plan is successful it will mark the way for similar developments in the future.
